UltraFit™ Solutions

For Dimensional Control in Polyethylene and Polypropylene

Color independent dimensional control of caps and closures

Color independent processing

Reduced complexity

Increased productivity

Color provides a powerful tool for product differentiation.

In caps and closures, certain colors trigger dimensional variability, which can lead to quality issues for both bottlers and consumers.

UltraFit Solutions by Milliken Concentrates combine color and additive technologies to offer closure producers a simple way to control dimensional quality regardless of color choice.

These products replace the need for process modifications and/or dedicated molds, cutting down on complexity, productivity loss, and cost in an easy step.
